FROZEN PRODUCE & ACCOMPANIMENTS

NEARLY EVERY DISH ON YOUR MENU NEEDS AN ACCOMPANIMENT – AND WE DON'T JUST MEAN CHIPS AND PEAS!

We've developed great tasting products and clever, time-saving solutions to help complete your dishes.

-  Minimising prep can help reduce pressure on kitchen resource and manage costs
-  Consider prime profit (food cost + labour cost) alongside wastage, as two crucial levers to your business's P&L
-  Frozen vegetables can often be more nutritious than fresh; experts recommend a balance of the two to maximise the benefits*
-  A 'blended' approach is a great way to manage variable volumes and maximise choice

SOFT DRINKS & MIXERS

THE WORLD OF SOFT DRINKS AND MIXERS HAS SEEN A REVOLUTION IN THE LAST FEW YEARS AS PEOPLE'S DRINKING HABITS CHANGE.

The growth in premium mixers and in low- and no-alcohol options shows consumers are seeking new experiences. There's a definite shift towards 'drink less, but better' across alcohol, mixers and soft drinks alike.

Many people have come out of lockdown with new attitudes to alcohol; young people are increasingly choosing to avoid it altogether. Our range reflects these trends, with an extensive list of familiar names and new craft producers.

Growth in craft and small-batch spirits is driving demand for premium mixers and soft drinks

Non-alcohol drinkers are demanding 'adult-orientated' soft drinks

Almost a third of consumers are planning to drink less or no alcohol, following lockdown*

20%

of consumers don't drink alcohol at all, rising to 33% among 18-25-year olds**

BENEFITS OF FROZEN

NATURE'S WAY OF LOCKING IN FRESHNESS

Frozen food brings enormous advantages to hospitality businesses in terms of convenience, cost-saving, availability, quality and nutritional value.

FROZEN DOESN'T MEAN COMPROMISING ON QUALITY OR FLAVOUR

Sensory research conducted by the British Frozen Food Federation (BFFF) involving 32 professional chefs showed no statistical sensory difference between frozen and fresh samples including tuna steaks, duck breasts, wholemeal bloomer and puff pastry.

FROZEN FOOD IS AS NUTRITIOUS AS FRESH FOOD – AND SOMETIMES BETTER

Sheffield Hallam University's Centre for Food Innovation compared the nutritional profile of a range of fresh and frozen ingredients and meals. It found that in frozen food, nutrients are 'locked in' during the freezing process, so lose none of their goodness during transit or storage, as can happen with fresh ingredients.

SIX GREAT REASONS TO CHOOSE FROZEN

You can choose from a huge range of options across all major categories, suitable for all storage facilities, kitchen skill levels and menu styles, confident that:

ONE "FRESHNESS" / QUALITY / FLAVOUR

- /// No additional or artificial preservatives required
- /// No degradation over time; bread, fish and vegetables are as fresh as the day they were made, caught or harvested

TWO CONVENIENCE AND VALUE

- /// Simple to use and easy to reheat or cook
- /// Often cheaper, saving up to 24%* due to more efficient supply chains
- /// Save time on labour heavy products and complex side dishes (dauphinoise, pommes Anna), slow cooked meats
- /// Reduced wastage and easier storage
- /// Pre-portioned options available

THREE AVAILABILITY

- /// Year-round availability of key ingredients
- /// Can buy in bulk so you know you've always got essentials in stock
- /// Long life means less frequent ordering

FOUR NUTRITIONAL VALUE

- /// More reliable nutritional value
- /// Less degradation of vitamins over time and transportation

FIVE FOOD SAFETY

- /// Safer reduction of microbiological activity including dangerous pathogens

SIX ENVIRONMENTAL

- /// Supply chain is more environmentally efficient*
- /// Helps reduce food waste

SUPPORTING BRITISH PRODUCERS

British food travels less far from farm to shop so has a lower carbon footprint than most imported foods.

We've been proud partners of Love British Food for many years, in line with our commitment to supporting British farmers and growers, and championing regional provenance.

We have a fantastic range of British products, including cheeses, milk and meat which are available year round, as well as wonderful seasonal fruit and vegetables.

CONTINUOUS IMPROVEMENT

We're committed to doing things even better across five key areas of our business:

Inclusion & diversity

Ensuring fair treatment for all, supporting women, LGBTQ+, BAME and generations

Nutritional advice & guidance

Monitoring and responding to the latest research, advice and legislation

Maintain zero waste to landfill

Adopting a reduce, reuse and recycle model to uphold our industry leading record

Regional provenance

Championing local producers to secure supplies, extend choice and reduce food miles

Sustainable sourcing

Safeguarding animal welfare, threatened species, scarce resources and fragile habitats
