DEEP CLEANING & ONGOING BEST PRACTISE

Getting your workplace ready to re-open

In accordance with Government guidelines, food business operators should continue to follow the FSA’s guidance on good hygiene practices in food preparation and handling areas. Additional guidance has been published to support food businesses in implementing or enhancing hygiene measures to help reduce the spread of COVID-19 in the workplace, for example, the importance of more frequent hand washing, employee fitness to work, cleanliness of aprons/workwear, increased cleaning of public areas, correct use of cleaning equipment and chemicals.

Further information can be found at food.gov.uk

At Brakes, we have a wide range of cleaning and other essential products to help you prepare your premises for reopening and maintaining the required level of hygiene as per Government guidelines.

Before you start

Some things you may wish to consider before you start your deep clean, in addition to Government guidelines:

- Replace cleaning materials such as cloths, scourers, dish brushes that were in-use or opened before shutdown
- Run a rinse cycle through equipment such as coffee machines, dishwashers, hot water urns
- Purge ice machines
- Re-wash all table linen
- Discard disposable napkins (part-used, in dispensers etc) and pre-made cleaning chemical solutions
- Check expiry dates on all chemicals (opened and sealed) as this can affect the functionality

Effective cleaning

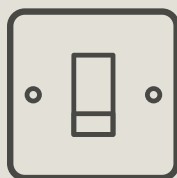

A cleaning schedule is a useful tool to help clean effectively in all areas. It may be helpful to consider reviewing all items that need cleaning and disinfecting, including those that come in contact with food, for example; store areas, ovens, dishwashers, as well as frequently touched objects such as handles and ancillary areas including floors, walls, ceilings etc.

The right products

To help your deep cleaning programme, Brakes can offer:

- Cleaning cloths
- Scourers
- Refuse sacks
- Mop and broom
- Dustpan and brush
- Wet-floor signs
- Disinfectant
- Personal protective equipment (PPE) as appropriate

Frequently touched objects

Consider providing disposable wipes for easy and frequent disinfection of high-touch surfaces

To prevent cross-contamination, we recommend using colour-coded cloths, as follows:

Blue  General Areas	Yellow  Food Preparation areas	Red  Washrooms	Green  Restaurant & Bar Areas

Cleaning and disinfection needs to be carried out in two stages

CLEAN

Using either hot, soapy water or a cleaning product (such as a sanitiser), remove visible dirt, grease and debris from surfaces/equipment and wipe off or rinse.

DISINFECT

Following the manufacturer's instructions, apply a disinfectant (such as sanitizer) all over the surfaces/equipment and leave on for the required contact time.

Cloth guidance

- Use disposal cloths wherever possible, and throw them away after each task
- Always use a new or freshly cleaned and disinfected cloth to wipe work surfaces, equipment or utensils that will be used with ready-to-eat food.
- Cloths can't be used for both floors and other surfaces.
- Take away re-usable cloths for thorough washing and disinfection after using them with raw meat/poultry, eggs or raw vegetables – and surfaces that have touched these foods.
- If using re-usable cloths, make sure they are thoroughly washed, disinfected and dried properly between tasks (not just when they look dirty).
- Ideally, wash cloths in a washing machine on a very hot cycle. A suitably high temperature can be obtained using a hot cycle of 90°C
