a Sysco company

Founded in 1974, Fairfax Meadow has grown from a small group of North London butcher's shops into one of the UK's leading catering butchers. For over 50 years, the business has earned the trust of professional kitchens through quality, consistency and dependable service.

Responsibly sourced from trusted supply partners, every cut is backed by rigorous welfare and quality standards, giving customers complete confidence in provenance and performance.

Expert butchers combine traditional craft skills with modern production techniques to produce meat to precise food-service specifications. From Himalayan salt dry-aged beef to a comprehensive range of beef, veal, pork, lamb and chicken, every product is prepared for consistent quality, yield and plate performance.

[illegible]A large, dark, glazed meat roast, likely a pork knuckle, is the centerpiece of the dish. It is served in a white ceramic bowl with a brown rim. The meat is covered in a thick, dark, glossy sauce and topped with a generous amount of finely chopped green herbs. Surrounding the meat is a bed of white beans, diced carrots, and green onions, all in a light broth. The bowl is set against a dark, textured background.
